AMM Welcomes Wyatt

Winnipeg councillor appointed to board of municipal association

November 10, 2006 – The Association of Manitoba Municipalities (AMM), as the group representing all incorporated municipalities in Manitoba, will see some new faces around their board table due to the recent municipal election. The first one is Russ Wyatt, councillor for the Transcona Ward in the City of Winnipeg and member of the Executive Policy Committee. Wyatt replaces outgoing councillor Jae Eadie.

“I am very pleased that the City of Winnipeg has shown their confidence in Russ by appointing him to the position of City of Winnipeg Director on the AMM board” says Ron Bell, AMM President. “Not only does Russ bring the perspective of the capital city to our board table, he also has an insiders understanding of how the AMM works due to his previous work as the AMM Director of Policy & Communications.”

The 17-member board of directors is made up of elected representatives from the AMM's seven districts, with the City of Winnipeg director being appointed by Winnipeg City Council.
