reduce red tape for municipalities across departments.

Although the discussion did not focus on the fine details, the Premier did reiterate his intention to develop a new partnership with the AMM and the City of Winnipeg to establish a basket funding model and lessen the application-based funding approach.

He also committed to sending a message to all government departments to work with the AMM on programs and regulations that affect municipalities.

President Goertzen felt the meeting was an excellent opportunity to highlight municipal priorities. The AMM is pleased to be among the first groups invited to meet with the new Premier, and we look forward to working with his government.

Government of Canada announces new rail safety measures

At the most recent meeting of FCM's National Municipal Rail Safety Working Group, Transport Minister Marc Garneau announced new measures to improve rail safety and the transportation of dangerous goods in Canada. Key elements of this announcement respond directly to concerns raised by FCM related to information sharing and the transportation of dangerous goods.

Key elements of Protective Direction 36 include:

- A new requirement for railways to prepare information for the public on the types of dangerous goods crossing communities.

- A requirement that, where multiple rail lines operated by the same company cross a particular jurisdiction, local governments can request that the information they receive under the PD be disaggregated.
- A phased-in approach to reporting schedules for Class 1 railways, moving to quarterly reporting within 24 months of the PD coming into force.
- A requirement that railways work with Transport Canada to identify mechanisms through which more detailed information on the nature and volume of DGs could be communicated to communities within six months of the PD coming into force, and that a solution be implemented within 30 months.
- A requirement for data to be transmitted in a consistent and usable format, and that it be made available in French, English or both official languages.
- Greater clarity provided on how local governments can share the data for emergency preparedness.

Municipalities are encouraged to register for information on dangerous goods. Note that if your community registered under PD32 to receive these reports, it is not necessary to re-register under PD36.
